Did you know?

"MULAN" is the first film produced primarily at Feature Animation's Florida studio. "MULAN" also uses amazing computer animation: in one scene artists used computers to animate 2,000 Huns (the bad guys) as they attack Mulan & the Imperial army.

MULAN

Check it out

In The Walt Disney Company's 36th animated feature "MULAN," a brave young woman is faced with the terrible reality that her father—too old to be a soldier but too honorable not to be one—will be killed in battle. Driven by her love for her father and her devotion to her family, Mulan makes a decision that will change their lives forever. Disguising herself as boy, she secretly takes her father's place in the Imperial army that is being gathered to meet the threat of invasion by the villainous Hun leader, Shan-Yu.

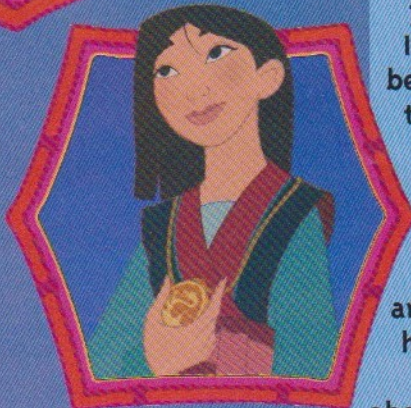

Out of this experience Mulan, and everyone around her, will learn profound lessons about courage, honor, and love.
